

A satellite image of Australia and the surrounding Southern Ocean. The continent is shown in shades of brown and orange, with white clouds swirling around it, particularly a large cyclone-like system over the western coast. The text is overlaid on this image.

Monash Weather and Climate Information Session

Free pizza!

Interested in studying atmospheric science?

When: 1-2 pm, Thursday Oct. 10

Where: Room S11, Building 25

Enrolment information as well as short talks by

Prof. Michael Reeder (Mathematical Sciences) and Dr. Ailie Gallant (Geography and Environmental Science)